Scott Names Candidates For Grand Jury

Judge Edmund Scott has announced the names of 30 prospective grand jurors to be named to a 19-member panel for 1947-48 on July 8 at 3 p.m., in Redwood City.

The list includes 20 men and 10 women, 19 of whom will be impeached and instructed by Judge Scott less than one year after Judge S. R. Cotton impeached the grand jury which was abruptly dismissed three months ago.

Three Redwood City, two San Carlos and one Belmont resident are on the list of prospective grand jurors. Two Woodside men, one Menlo Park resident, and two from Atherton complete the south county representation.

Mrs. Florida M. Stark, 505 Cornell Ave., San Mateo, housewife.

Eugene E. Kerrick, Half Moon Bay, merchant.

Harry N. Clark, Miramar, oil company agent.

The 1946-47 grand jury, which may have as its first item of business an indictment against Vorhes Newton, charged with murder, will be impeached by Judge Scott, although he today said he would ask Judge Cotton to endorse the new panel with a signature.

Although the action was viewed as a "courtesy measure"—the grand jury falls under the jurisdiction of Dept. 2 during even-numbered years—it likewise represented "something new" in inter court co-operation, courthouse observers said.

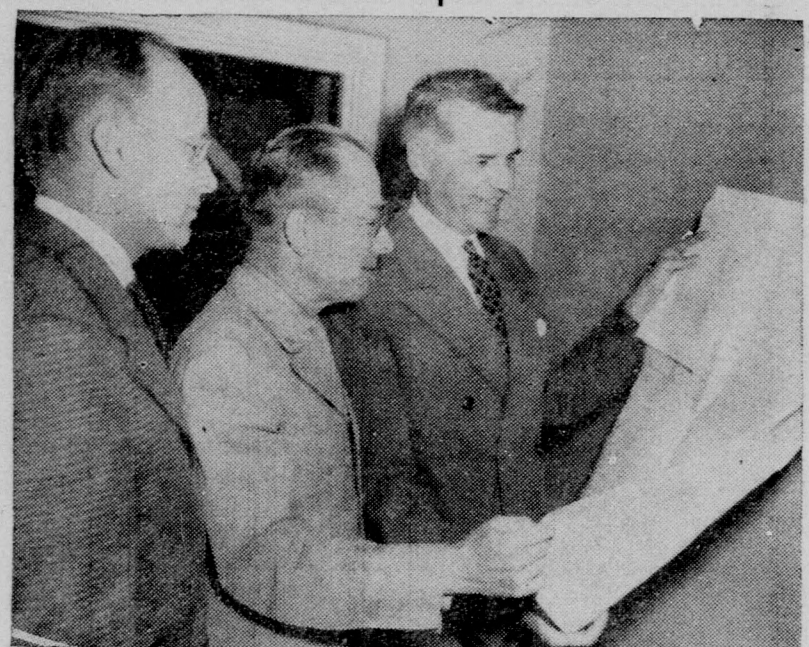

Randalls Purchase 250-Acre Tract

Mr. and Mrs. Walter D. Randall Sr. have purchased a 250-acre tract on the former Mary Stanton estate near Los Trancos Creek at the southern end of the county for $58,000, according to stamps on a deed filed with County Recorder T. Clark Rice today.

The property was purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Enrico Rossotti.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Casaretto of Redwood City have held a 175-foot business lot on Laurel St., San Carlos, to Mr. and Mrs. Melvin B. Johnson of San Carlos for an indicated price of $37,000. No plans have been made for the immediate development of the property, according to the new owners, Johnson is a San Carlos real estate man.

Paul A. McCarthy, J. H. Rowell Form Law Partnership

Paul A. McCarthy, city attorney and former mayor of Redwood City, and Jonathan H. Rowell, San Francisco lawyer and son of the San Francisco columnist, Chester H. Rowell, today announced the formation of a law partnership with offices in San Francisco and Redwood City.

McCarthy was graduated from the University of California in 1904, received a law degree from Hastings College of Law in 1906 and was admitted to the bar in the same year. He has practiced in San Francisco since that time, and has maintained an office at 2024 Broadway since 1942, when he was appointed city attorney and attorney for the Board of Port Commissioners. McCarthy was a member of the board of freeholders that drafted the present Charter of Redwood City in 1929, was a councilman from 1929-40.

He served as mayor from 1936 to 1938. He has been the sponsor of many public activities in San Mateo County since he became a resident here 23 years ago.

Rowell was graduated from Harvard in 1931 with great distinction, and secured his law degree from the same university in 1934. After graduation he was associated with McCutchen, Olney, Mannon & Greene until 1937, and from then until the outbreak of the war specialized in labor law with Matthew O. Tobriner. He served in the U. S. Army from 1942-45, and participated in the Rhine and Ruhr campaigns.

Since last September he has been associated with McCarthy. He is a resident of Woodside.

The San Francisco office of the firm is located in the Bldg. and the Redwood City office will remain at 2024 Broadway until larger office space becomes available.

Thorpe Takes Oath As R.C. Police Judge

W. H. (Bud) Thorpe, new Redwood City police judge, settled down to administering traffic fines and persons charged with drunkenness Monday. Before he took over his new duties, however, he was sworn into office by Judge E. I. McAuliffe.

McAuliffe, who resigned to become a full time justice of the peace, said that the city was lucky to obtain a man of Thorpe's ability.

Present at the ceremonies in council chambers were representatives from the police force, Willis Frost, Judge Edward Ryan from Menlo Park, Councilman Floyd D. Granger, City Mgr. E. W. Blom and members of the Thorpe family.

Thorpe will conduct court sessions in council chambers, although his office will be in a room formerly occupied by the chamber of commerce.

Hitch-Hiker Robs S.C. Businessman

Robert Zang, former partner in the San Carlos Motor Sales Co., reported to the Reno sheriff's office Saturday the theft of his sedan, containing $3000 in cash, two endorsed checks for $2800, and 2000 shares of Commonwealth and Southern railroad stock.

Zang said he picked up a hitchhiker near Sacramento Friday night, while en route to Reno. Both then had several drinks and put up at a guest ranch for the night.

Next morning, Zang told officers, his car, its valuable contents and the hitchhiker were missing.

W. A. Haney, Zang's former partner at 500 El Camino Real, San Carlos, said that he believed Zang was en route to the East on personal business. Haney bought Zang's share of their used car business last Thursday.

The shares of stock are not negotiable, Haney declared, and the checks were immediately stopped at the bank on telephoned instructions from Zang in Reno.

Milk Prices Jump 2 Cents To New High

Milk prices increased two cents a quart Tuesday, according to Herbert Fletcher, secretary of the San Mateo County Milk Dealers' Assn.

His statement followed an announcement by the State Department of Agriculture that removal of federal subsidies paid dairymen warrants an increase from one and one-half to two cents a quart in the price paid by consumers.

This means, according to Fletcher, milk delivered will retail at 15 1/2 cents per quart, while milk in stores will increase in price from 15 cents to 17 cents.

With OPA price ceilings and subsidies removed on butterfat, there will be no limit on what producers can charge. W. B. Woodburn, chief of the State Bureau of Milk Control, said.

Meanwhile, Carl (Ike) Britschgi, co-owner of the Occidental Creamery in Redwood City, said that his organization had taken steps to put the price increases into effect immediately.

He pointed out that the added cost is caused by increases paid to the farmer and that his company would gain virtually nothing from the boost.

Britschgi explained that the farmer will get $1.25 per pound of butterfat as compared with the present $1.03.

Peace Garden Vegetables Needed in Food Crisis

Delicious, Nutritious, Green Salad Leaves.

Victory gardens have become Peace gardens, but there is still an urgent need for fresh vegetables. You will agree that the vegetables grown at home have a flavor and freshness rarely equalled in the produce usually offered at markets. Then again, with vegetables such as sweet corn, peas and many others the flavor is never quite as good as when the crop is eaten within an hour after being harvested. That obviously is not possible when vegetables are obtained at the corner market, usually two or more days old.

It is quite possible to raise fresh vegetables at home without disturbing the general lay-out and balance of your garden scene. Usually an area in some out-of-the-way part of the garden can be used. Here, through intensive cultivation, you may have your favorite vegetables practically all through the year. For crops such as lettuce, carrots, beets and turnips the seed should be planted in double rows on raised beds. The raised beds are formed by making furrows parallel to each other at a distance of about thirty inches apart from center to center. On the shoulder of each furrow seed should be planted. The furrows become irrigation ditches and the water reaches the roots by lateral movement. On heavy soil, the furrows should be about six inches deep, light soils requiring somewhat shallower furrows to prevent the soil from drying out too rapidly. Practically every garden has room for at least a few tomato plants. There are few vegetables that produce as abundantly as the tomato, and if a sunny spot is provided you should have little trouble in growing a bumper crop. However, sooner or later the tomato hookworm may bother your plants so be on the watch for these large worms. Any stomach poison insecticide should quickly put an end to this garden pest.

Frank Scott Gets Burlingame Post

The Burlingame City Council last Monday appointed Capt. Frank L. Scott of Los Angeles city recreation superintendent.

Captain Scott, now on terminal leave from the army, placed first on the civil service qualification list of four applicants.

He will succeed Paul Armstrong, acting superintendent since the resignation last month of Marvin Kahn, former Stanford swimming star.

County Charter Should Be Abolished

TO THE TAXPAYERS OF SAN MATEO COUNTY:

This eternal and unending confusion over the Charter should cease by the repeal of the Charter in its entirety.

This document has led to constant and never ceasing political squabbles detrimental to the better interests of the taxpayers in our wonderful San Mateo County.

It should be abolished; retaining only by ordinance the county-wide election of Supervisors and the unified management of the Road System, and such other harmonious measures as are desirable.

The Board of Supervisors are empowered to enact ordinances to cover all situations and can do so when need arises.

The Charter has been a "NOBLE EXPERIMENT" — and has proved an ignoble instrument in bringing extraordinary costs to the taxpayers without harmony and the happiness of living together as friends, which its proponents had hoped to attain.

Innocent newcomers often wonder what kind of a mess they are getting into under present conditions. They usually think that a Charter ought to mean better government but this Charter has brought unexampled confusion and trouble.

We want new industries and new people. To attain these ends we should have the county form of government that has stood the test for years.

Amending a discredited document will make it more unworkable.

Belmont Building Slowed in June

Building permits for more than 100 homes have been issued in Belmont since January, according to Bldg. Insp. B. Smith.

Total evaluation of construction in Belmont for the first half of 1946 was $1,202,995. The figure for the month of June was $46,424, which included estimates on six homes.

The figure for June is well below that of May, which included permits for 97 homes under construction in the Belmont Park subdivision.

Brothers Plead 'Not Guilty' in Rape Case

Henry Guernsey, 23, 49 Maple St., Atherton, and William Guernsey, 25, 946 Scott St., Palo Alto, charged on two counts of raping WAC Cpl. Lucille Dewey, stationed at Berkeley, on the morning of Apr. 11 on the Coastside and near Belmont, Monday afternoon pleaded not guilty.

Superior Court Judge A. R. Cotton set July 8 as the date to set time for trial.

The brothers, both apprentice carpenters working on a housing project in Palo Alto, were arrested May 2 after Corporal Dewey pointed them out to sheriff's deputies and army officials.

Corporal Dewey said she and another WAC corporal, Agnes Lavorbora, 23, had left the Gay Nineties Revue in the International Settlement in San Francisco after 11 p.m. Apr. 10 and were headed for Chinatown when two men, whom Corporal Dewey identified as the Guernsey brothers, offered them a ride, which they accepted.

They started to drive out of San Francisco and Corporal Lavorbora leaped from the car. The men continued to drive down the Peninsula with Corporal Dewey, whom they allegedly raped twice each.

'Billy Goat' Burglar Arraigned in S.C.

Lawrence Blanchard, the "billy goat burglar," was arraigned in San Carlos Police Judge Rupert Johnson's court Saturday morning on two counts of burglary.

He had been surprised by Lowe and Officer Frank Lucero as he was attempting to break into the bar

How to plan for food on your vacation trip

If your vacation this summer is to take you on the highways and byways, you'll probably buy part of the necessities as you go. But if you travel to some of the more remote regions where fresh fruits and vegetables and meat may not be so readily available, then it's especially important to take a few supplies along. What you take will depend on where you're going and what you are going to do—fishing, hunting, pack trip, or camping; and where you plan to stay—cabin, tent or trailer.

FOODS TO TAKE ALONG—Slightly under-ripe fruits and vegetables which will ripen on the way, grapefruit, potatoes and onions, canned fruits and vegetables, will all help take care of the produce problem.

Bacon, smoked ham, dried beef and canned meats and fish will carry well and keep. Be careful about taking along fresh meats unless you have refrigeration. Even ham and bacon shouldn't be purchased very far in advance or in too large a quantity—especially if the weather is hot.

Include such packaged and prepared foods as pancake mix, biscuit mix, cereals, dried soups, beans, fruit. Don't forget salt, pepper, sugar, syrup, catsup, seasonings, paper napkins, matches, soap.

Canned soups, evaporated milk, pork and beans, chicken a la king, etc., in cans or glass help simplify vacation meals.

VACATION MENUETTES

CHOWDER SUPPER—Use lima beans, corn, or clams or fish (your own catch or canned). Make it with evaporated milk with plenty of potatoes and onion; season with crisp-fried bacon or salt pork. Serve with plenty of crackers, celery and carrot sticks.

PORK AND BEANS—Top pork and beans with frankfurters (your Dutch oven is good for this). Heat and serve with chili sauce, lots of green onions, sliced tomatoes and cucumbers and potato chips.

SALMON OR TUNA WIGGLE—Add salmon or tuna to undiluted cream of mushroom or celery soup. Heat and serve on buns along with corn on the cob, sliced tomatoes and pickles.

Supervisors Face Battle On Sawyer Road Closing Plan

San Mateo County supervisors who meet in regular session tomorrow will have 14 letters of protest in the proposed closing of Sawyer Camp Rd.

Individual citizens and civic groups have expressed objection to closing the six-mile stretch of unpaved roadway which follows the route used by Portola in his first trip to what is now San Francisco in 1769.

The closing was recommended by County Eng. M. A. Grant who said construction of a paved road over the present road will cost $20,000 per mile, or a total of $120,000.

His proposal for abandonment has been backed by the San Francisco Water Dept. which asks the road be barred to the public as a precautionary measure to protect the watershed from contamination.

The road, which follows the shoreline of Crystal Springs Lake from the San Mateo intersection on Skyline Blvd. north to San Andreas Lake and reverts to Skyline at the Millbrae intersection, was named after Sawyer Camp, a lumber mill at the south end of Crystal Springs Lake.

Before the war, the old camp site was popular as a picnic spot.
